

Women Prepare Questionnaires for Men Candidates

Ask Them to Give Their Views on Important Public Issues.

The New York City League of Women Voters, whose chairman is Miss Mary Garrett Hay, has completed its questionnaires for candidates of all political parties and will at once send them to men whose names have been suggested for office. A committee has had charge of the compilation of the questionnaires, and the final set is a condensation of the most important points considered.

Candidates for the Assembly and for the State Senate will be asked the following: Are you for or against—1. The restoration of the direct primary nomination for State officers and Supreme Court judges? 2. The repeal of the Lusk bills (a) requiring loyalty tests of teachers, (b) requiring the licensing of private schools? 3. A change in the State party organization law providing for two State committeemen from each Assembly district? 4. The revision of the laws so as to remove the present local disabilities of women so that women may serve on juries, may have an equal right to be appointed administrators of the estate of relatives, may choose their legal residences, may be admitted to all civil service examinations and have an equal right to all appointments and may have full control of their earnings? 5. The second passage of the home rule amendment? 6. An enabling act to take advantage of the provisions of the Sheppard-Towner maternity act? 7. State cooperation for the enforcement of prohibition? 8. The administration of schools by boards of education independent of city government? 9. An eight hour day or a forty-eight hour week for women and minors in factories and mercantile establishments, a minimum wage commission to determine a living wage for working women and minors in various industries and localities and the abolition of night work for minors?

For Congress Members.

Representatives (and later United States Senators) will be thus questioned: Are you for or against—(1) The United States taking the initiative in international cooperation to prevent war? (2) The United States joining in an international movement for the proportional reduction of land armaments? (3) The continuation of the Volstead act, a modification of the Volstead act that would permit the sale of light wine and beer, or the repeal of the Volstead act? (4) The payment of a bonus to all world war veterans and, if so, how would you provide for its payment? (5) A tariff for revenue only, a tariff sufficiently high to shut out foreign goods from American markets and protect American industries, or permanent non-partisan commission which will frame schedules on a scientific basis? (6) Federal provision for the removal of illiteracy throughout the United States? (7) Adequate financial support for the Children's Bureau, the Women's Bureau in the Department of Labor and the Home Demonstration Work in the Department of Agriculture?

After the State conventions of the Democratic and Republican parties candidates for the offices of Governor and Lieutenant-Governor will receive a questionnaire similar to the one sent to Assemblymen and State Senators.

The answers to the questionnaires will be kept on file at the political information bureau of the league at 27 West Thirty-ninth street and later will be printed with the records of the candidates and will be sent free of charge to thousands of women voters throughout the city.

Voters Interested in Queries.

Commenting on the questionnaires, Miss Hay said:

"Candidates throughout the city are already showing an interest in our questionnaires, so much so that our political work has this feature become. The league feels that it is rendering candidates as well as women an important service, since through the questionnaires it has been possible to find out what interests thousands of the women who will be asked to vote for them and who may later become their constituents.

"We expect a general response to our questionnaires, a serious and sincere consideration of the different points. As we maintain an impartial, non-partisan attitude toward all the candidates and treat them all exactly alike, they can with reason feel that what data is given will be used exactly as they would wish it used, to give the voters accurate and authentic information as to what the men and women who aspire to the running of our Government feel on important matters that concern our general welfare. And with so many vital issues to the fore the voters may well feel that never in the history of the country was it more necessary that our candidates and public officials should be competent to deal intelligently with public problems."

BRADY TO MANAGE BURKE.

Irish Tenor to Give Ballad and Classic Concerts.

William A. Brady has become an important addition to our varied activities. Tom Burke, Irish tenor, has come under his management and the theatrical manager now for the first time enters the concert field. By their agreement Mr. Burke, who has hitherto had only a few appearances as a concert singer with standard numbers, will give varied programs. The initial concert at which he will sing popular ballads as well as grand opera arias will be in the Stamford Theater, Stamford, August 26. He will give several concerts at the Playhouse on Sunday evenings.

Mr. Burke has sung with the Royal Opera Company in Covent Garden, London. Last season he was called in suddenly to join the Chicago Opera Company at the Manhattan Opera House to replace Tito Schipa.

Notes of the Stage

The three paintings by Joseph Urban, illustrating one of the stories in Grimm's Fairy Tales, were hung in the Fulton Theater yesterday as a part of the new decorations under Mr. Urban's direction.

The complete cast of "Folia Errant," the new play by Louis Evan Shipman, which opens to-morrow night at Madison Square Theater, includes Cyril Kelsight, Alexandra Carlisle, Vincent Bernard, Lucille Wilson, Fritz Williams, Robert Cummings, Mabel Pell, Charles Roloff, Arthur Fitzgerald, Ruth Ziegler, Gregory Loftin, Edith Keady and Miss C. Tracy L'Engle.

Paul Pollet, the famous French costumeur, called yesterday on the Prætor, coming to America for the first time since the war, to oversee the making of the costumes which he designed for Edward Royce's "Orange Blossoms" at the Fulton Theater.

Rehearsals of the London musical play "The Lady of the Rose," which will be called "The Lady in Ermine" in this country, since no more current productions have the word "rose" in the title, will commence early in the month, under Shubert management.

Frank Belcher, producing director for the Belknap, saw the Berlin production of the play which will be produced in New York under the title of "The Mysterious Tales of Hoffmann" and yesterday that Mr. Belcher was the man for the leading role, Mr. Belcher is under contract to Arthur Hopkins, but the Belknap have arranged with the star and his manager to play the part when the play is produced in the fall.

MANY NOTABLES AMONG 879 ARRIVING ABOARD THE PARIS

Major-Gen. Bullard and Count and Countess de Bustillo
Among Voyagers.

The French liner Paris returned yesterday with 879 passengers and many notable persons from all walks of life were included among the 223 in the first cabin.

Among those arriving were Richard E. Dwight, New York attorney, and Mrs. Dwight, who have been abroad since June. Mr. Dwight was most pessimistic regarding present conditions abroad. Poland, he said, is rapidly being overwhelmed by the political chaos which has taken place in that country, and Czechoslovakia is being torn by racial antagonism, although prospering in a business way. Jugoslavia is probably the best situated country of the near East, he said, and gives every evidence of being one of the most stable governments.

War is talked of in the Balkans every hour, Mr. Dwight said, but that was all it amounted to as the Allied Powers would not permit any sort of outbreak there. Speaking of the Serbian army, which he saw in review, Mr. Dwight praised the type of men in the service and said that the cavalry was probably the finest in the world.

Miss Ina Claire returned from a six week trip through Europe and was met at the pier by her husband, George Whittaker. She announced that she would appear in a new comedy by Arthur Richman, known as "The Awful Truth," and begin rehearsals immediately. The play will open at Henry Miller Theatre, she said, and will be under the direction of Gilbert Miller, acting for the Charles Frohman enterprises.

Nesmore Kendal, head of the Capitol Theatre corporation, returned with his daughter, Miss Elizabeth Kendal, from a business trip abroad and said that European motion picture shows could not begin to compare with those presented in the United States. He brought back a high powered Hispano-Suiza automobile, but said he would dispose of it to some young fellow, "as it was too fast for him."

Ernest Rapee, conductor of the Capitol Theatre orchestra, also returned on the ship after a vacation spent at his former home in Hungary.

Something novel in the way of imported dresses was worn by Mrs. G. B. Williamson of Forest Hills, who returned on the Paris with her husband and daughter. The dress was of woven art-cotton and had rectangular panels which depicted the life of Cleopatra. The eridole of the gown was of metal and in the shape of an asp, the head of which was the buckle of the girdle.

Others on board the Paris were Major Gen. Robert Lee Bullard, Commander of the Second Corps Area, who returned with his daughter and was taken off at Quarantine; Count Edouard Glennison, Belgian Commissioner; Count and Countess de Bustillo, Helle Bobo, Brazilian Consul in New York; Miss Yvonne Georges, French singer; Mrs. David Belasco and Margaret Josephine Penick. Mrs. Christine McHugh returned, bringing advanced styles of dresses and millinery which she said were the most unusual things she had seen in some time. She said that French modistes were making attempts to make their bizarre but probably would not last.

actress, and with her returned to Philadelphia, where he was arrested several weeks ago by the Federal agents and detained at Gloucester for deportation.

The George Washington carried an unusually large passenger list, and among those sailing was the Baroness de Knagenhjelm of Denmark, who returns to her home after an extended visit to friends in the United States. Others aboard were Dr. and Mrs. O. S. Lowrey, Dr. Lowrey is port surgeon of the United States Lines here; H. L. Dickerson, deputy comptroller of the lines, who sailed with Mrs. Dickerson for what he termed a "delayed honeymoon"; Mrs. A. E. Seel, mother of the American Consul at Southampton; Mrs. B. F. Schlessinger and Howard Schlessinger, William H. Walker, Major and Mrs. G. O. Trotter and Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Taylor.

"GOOD MORNING, DEARIE." This is the last week of the New York engagement of "Good Morning, Dearie," at the Globe Theater. At the end of this week, the forty-third in New York, "Good Morning, Dearie" will leave Broadway for an engagement at the Colonial Theater, Chicago. The Broadway performances will see Miss Louise Groody, Oscar Shaw, Harland Dixon, Miss Ada Lewis, William Kent, John Price Jones, Miss Marie Callahan, John He, and the Sixteen Sunshine Girls in their accustomed places.

On several other occasions, according to the authorities, Carlton has posed as a British noble, and was deported in 1914 after he had been extensively entertained by Mayor Curley of Boston, who believed him to be a British lord.

He succeeded in gaining admittance to the country later, and according to the record held by the authorities he was sentenced to four years in Joliet Prison. He was later heard of in Montreal, where he married Gertrude English, an actress, and with her returned to Philadelphia, where he was arrested several weeks ago by the Federal agents and detained at Gloucester for deportation.

The George Washington carried an unusually large passenger list, and among those sailing was the Baroness de Knagenhjelm of Denmark, who returns to her home after an extended visit to friends in the United States. Others aboard were Dr. and Mrs. O. S. Lowrey, Dr. Lowrey is port surgeon of the United States Lines here; H. L. Dickerson, deputy comptroller of the lines, who sailed with Mrs. Dickerson for what he termed a "delayed honeymoon"; Mrs. A. E. Seel, mother of the American Consul at Southampton; Mrs. B. F. Schlessinger and Howard Schlessinger, William H. Walker, Major and Mrs. G. O. Trotter and Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Taylor.

actress, and with her returned to Philadelphia, where he was arrested several weeks ago by the Federal agents and detained at Gloucester for deportation.

The George Washington carried an unusually large passenger list, and among those sailing was the Baroness de Knagenhjelm of Denmark, who returns to her home after an extended visit to friends in the United States. Others aboard were Dr. and Mrs. O. S. Lowrey, Dr. Lowrey is port surgeon of the United States Lines here; H. L. Dickerson, deputy comptroller of the lines, who sailed with Mrs. Dickerson for what he termed a "delayed honeymoon"; Mrs. A. E. Seel, mother of the American Consul at Southampton; Mrs. B. F. Schlessinger and Howard Schlessinger, William H. Walker, Major and Mrs. G. O. Trotter and Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Taylor.

Fussy Schooner in Homeric's Way Delays Sailing

Lumber Vessel Tacks Unconcernedly in Hudson, Holding Up Giantess With Notables.

The White Star liner Homeric left yesterday and among her large passenger list included the twenty members of the International Trade Commission, headed by Dr. Clarence J. Owens. The commission is going to Europe to make an exhaustive investigation of business conditions abroad, and the final report made by the body will be made public as a Congressional paper. The members of the body were appointed by the Governors of the various State represented and is the fifth such organization of its kind to undertake such a mission.

Among the members of the commission were Joseph P. Brownlee, James E. McCrackin, Ralph Metcalf, Wick C. Gans, Finley L. Williams, W. R. Craven, H. L. Reeder, Mrs. C. Kriebbaum, Edward Glanville, advisor to the International Foreign Trade Commission; John King, N. B. Kelly, Emmett W. Gans, Dr. B. H. Minchew, Joseph Newburger, Dr. J. C. Cooper of Honolulu, James C. Harris, F. L. Williamson and Bolling A. Johnson.

A rule of the seas kept the big liner waiting nearly twenty-five minutes after sailing time to permit a four-masted Canadian lumber schooner to pass the pier under her own canvas. Whistles blew and the friends of those aboard all started to wave goodbye and rush to the end of the dock to watch the ship leave.

The officers in command of the Homeric saw the schooner, and, while vexed at the delay realized that the captain of the lumber boat was within his rights, although it is seldom a schooner makes the river under her own power. The captain of the four master waved gently to the Homeric, which sailed along, tacking occasionally in his two knot course, and the hundreds on the pier kept up their farewells for the extra time. The captain of the lumber ship was evidently saving towing charges by coming up the river under his own canvas.

On board the Homeric were 225 first cabin passengers, and in this number were included several theatrical celebrities and other prominent persons. In addition to the trade commissioners, Fannie Brice, formerly of the Ziegfeld Follies, soon to star in a musical comedy by Jerome Kern and Rida Johnson Young, started on her first European voyage since she has been on the stage, and a big delegation of Follies girls and other friends were at the pier to see her off. Even "Sally," Mr. Ziegfeld's pet gorilla, was brought along and waved a rather weak hand at the liner as it left.

Mrs. James Evans, Jr., former wife of Douglas Fairbanks, also sailed, taking her son, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. Several prominent members of the clergy sailed, including the Rev. S. Parkes Cadman, rector of the Central Congregational Church of Brooklyn, and the Rev. John Stuart Holden, vicar of St. Paul's, London. Ralph Peck, vice-president of Franklin Simon & Co.; W. A. Worthington, vice-president of the Southern Pacific Company, and E. W. Hammons, president of the Educational Film Corporation, represented the commercial field among the travelers, and Dr. Louis Hauswirth of Mt. Sinai Hospital, and Dr. A. A. Brill, psychiatrist, represented the medical profession, with Judge Frederick E. Crane of Brooklyn, Judge Alexander New and Eustace Seligman among the legal profession on board.

Miss Mildred La Gue, an actress, ship after a vacation spent at his former home in Hungary.

Something novel in the way of imported dresses was worn by Mrs. G. B. Williamson of Forest Hills, who returned on the Paris with her husband and daughter. The dress was of woven art-cotton and had rectangular panels which depicted the life of Cleopatra. The eridole of the gown was of metal and in the shape of an asp, the head of which was the buckle of the girdle.

Others on board the Paris were Major Gen. Robert Lee Bullard, Commander of the Second Corps Area, who returned with his daughter and was taken off at Quarantine; Count Edouard Glennison, Belgian Commissioner; Count and Countess de Bustillo, Helle Bobo, Brazilian Consul in New York; Miss Yvonne Georges, French singer; Mrs. David Belasco and Margaret Josephine Penick. Mrs. Christine McHugh returned, bringing advanced styles of dresses and millinery which she said were the most unusual things she had seen in some time. She said that French modistes were making attempts to make their bizarre but probably would not last.

actress, and with her returned to Philadelphia, where he was arrested several weeks ago by the Federal agents and detained at Gloucester for deportation.

The George Washington carried an unusually large passenger list, and among those sailing was the Baroness de Knagenhjelm of Denmark, who returns to her home after an extended visit to friends in the United States. Others aboard were Dr. and Mrs. O. S. Lowrey, Dr. Lowrey is port surgeon of the United States Lines here; H. L. Dickerson, deputy comptroller of the lines, who sailed with Mrs. Dickerson for what he termed a "delayed honeymoon"; Mrs. A. E. Seel, mother of the American Consul at Southampton; Mrs. B. F. Schlessinger and Howard Schlessinger, William H. Walker, Major and Mrs. G. O. Trotter and Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Taylor.

"GOOD MORNING, DEARIE." This is the last week of the New York engagement of "Good Morning, Dearie," at the Globe Theater. At the end of this week, the forty-third in New York, "Good Morning, Dearie" will leave Broadway for an engagement at the Colonial Theater, Chicago. The Broadway performances will see Miss Louise Groody, Oscar Shaw, Harland Dixon, Miss Ada Lewis, William Kent, John Price Jones, Miss Marie Callahan, John He, and the Sixteen Sunshine Girls in their accustomed places.

On several other occasions, according to the authorities, Carlton has posed as a British noble, and was deported in 1914 after he had been extensively entertained by Mayor Curley of Boston, who believed him to be a British lord.

He succeeded in gaining admittance to the country later, and according to the record held by the authorities he was sentenced to four years in Joliet Prison. He was later heard of in Montreal, where he married Gertrude English, an actress, and with her returned to Philadelphia, where he was arrested several weeks ago by the Federal agents and detained at Gloucester for deportation.

The George Washington carried an unusually large passenger list, and among those sailing was the Baroness de Knagenhjelm of Denmark, who returns to her home after an extended visit to friends in the United States. Others aboard were Dr. and Mrs. O. S. Lowrey, Dr. Lowrey is port surgeon of the United States Lines here; H. L. Dickerson, deputy comptroller of the lines, who sailed with Mrs. Dickerson for what he termed a "delayed honeymoon"; Mrs. A. E. Seel, mother of the American Consul at Southampton; Mrs. B. F. Schlessinger and Howard Schlessinger, William H. Walker, Major and Mrs. G. O. Trotter and Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Taylor.

actress, and with her returned to Philadelphia, where he was arrested several weeks ago by the Federal agents and detained at Gloucester for deportation.

The George Washington carried an unusually large passenger list, and among those sailing was the Baroness de Knagenhjelm of Denmark, who returns to her home after an extended visit to friends in the United States. Others aboard were Dr. and Mrs. O. S. Lowrey, Dr. Lowrey is port surgeon of the United States Lines here; H. L. Dickerson, deputy comptroller of the lines, who sailed with Mrs. Dickerson for what he termed a "delayed honeymoon"; Mrs. A. E. Seel, mother of the American Consul at Southampton; Mrs. B. F. Schlessinger and Howard Schlessinger, William H. Walker, Major and Mrs. G. O. Trotter and Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Taylor.

actress, and with her returned to Philadelphia, where he was arrested several weeks ago by the Federal agents and detained at Gloucester for deportation.

The George Washington carried an unusually large passenger list, and among those sailing was the Baroness de Knagenhjelm of Denmark, who returns to her home after an extended visit to friends in the United States. Others aboard were Dr. and Mrs. O. S. Lowrey, Dr. Lowrey is port surgeon of the United States Lines here; H. L. Dickerson, deputy comptroller of the lines, who sailed with Mrs. Dickerson for what he termed a "delayed honeymoon"; Mrs. A. E. Seel, mother of the American Consul at Southampton; Mrs. B. F. Schlessinger and Howard Schlessinger, William H. Walker, Major and Mrs. G. O. Trotter and Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Taylor.

Soon to Be Bride

Miss Wilhelmine Lohman.

Countess Cardelli, Major P. A. Curry, manager of the White Star Dominion Line for Canada, and Jurien Thayer, a young opera singer, were also on board. Other passengers included Mrs. Charles M. Post, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Baldwin, Casa Gilbert, Mrs. Paul Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wilson, Louis J. Phelps, Mrs. Edward Kirkpatrick of Warrington and a number of other society folk from various cities.

THE ADRIATIC SAILS.

Cause of Explosion Not Determined by Investigation Here.

The cause of the explosion on board the White Star liner Adriatic was still unknown when the liner left yesterday for the return trip under command of Capt. H. R. David. Officials of the line said that although brief investigations were made since the ship's arrival a week ago to-day no cause had been definitely determined. A searching inquiry into the accident will take place in Liverpool, where permanent repairs will be made.

A report of the survey made by the British Consul here, Capt. H. Gloster Armstrong, was carried aboard the liner and will be presented to the Board of Trade when that body holds its investigation in Liverpool.

Sailing aboard the liner was William E. George of 44 Fourth street, Brooklyn, head of the Junior Republic, who will confer abroad with the Lafayette Memorial Commission, which plans to establish a similar organization at the house of Lafayette in Chateaufort, France. The Junior Republic is an organization founded by Mr. George for the purpose of instructing young people in self-government. He said that at the chateau formerly owned by the Marquis de Lafayette in Chateaufort there are a number of young Russian children from many of the old Russian families which were forced out of that country by the revolution. These children will be given a course of instruction of self-government along the American lines, and in event of some sort of settlement of conditions in Russia would be sent there to preach the gospel of proper government by the people.

Miss Mildred La Gue, an actress, ship after a vacation spent at his former home in Hungary.

Something novel in the way of imported dresses was worn by Mrs. G. B. Williamson of Forest Hills, who returned on the Paris with her husband and daughter. The dress was of woven art-cotton and had rectangular panels which depicted the life of Cleopatra. The eridole of the gown was of metal and in the shape of an asp, the head of which was the buckle of the girdle.

Others on board the Paris were Major Gen. Robert Lee Bullard, Commander of the Second Corps Area, who returned with his daughter and was taken off at Quarantine; Count Edouard Glennison, Belgian Commissioner; Count and Countess de Bustillo, Helle Bobo, Brazilian Consul in New York; Miss Yvonne Georges, French singer; Mrs. David Belasco and Margaret Josephine Penick. Mrs. Christine McHugh returned, bringing advanced styles of dresses and millinery which she said were the most unusual things she had seen in some time. She said that French modistes were making attempts to make their bizarre but probably would not last.

actress, and with her returned to Philadelphia, where he was arrested several weeks ago by the Federal agents and detained at Gloucester for deportation.

The George Washington carried an unusually large passenger list, and among those sailing was the Baroness de Knagenhjelm of Denmark, who returns to her home after an extended visit to friends in the United States. Others aboard were Dr. and Mrs. O. S. Lowrey, Dr. Lowrey is port surgeon of the United States Lines here; H. L. Dickerson, deputy comptroller of the lines, who sailed with Mrs. Dickerson for what he termed a "delayed honeymoon"; Mrs. A. E. Seel, mother of the American Consul at Southampton; Mrs. B. F. Schlessinger and Howard Schlessinger, William H. Walker, Major and Mrs. G. O. Trotter and Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Taylor.

"GOOD MORNING, DEARIE." This is the last week of the New York engagement of "Good Morning, Dearie," at the Globe Theater. At the end of this week, the forty-third in New York, "Good Morning, Dearie" will leave Broadway for an engagement at the Colonial Theater, Chicago. The Broadway performances will see Miss Louise Groody, Oscar Shaw, Harland Dixon, Miss Ada Lewis, William Kent, John Price Jones, Miss Marie Callahan, John He, and the Sixteen Sunshine Girls in their accustomed places.

On several other occasions, according to the authorities, Carlton has posed as a British noble, and was deported in 1914 after he had been extensively entertained by Mayor Curley of Boston, who believed him to be a British lord.

He succeeded in gaining admittance to the country later, and according to the record held by the authorities he was sentenced to four years in Joliet Prison. He was later heard of in Montreal, where he married Gertrude English, an actress, and with her returned to Philadelphia, where he was arrested several weeks ago by the Federal agents and detained at Gloucester for deportation.

The George Washington carried an unusually large passenger list, and among those sailing was the Baroness de Knagenhjelm of Denmark, who returns to her home after an extended visit to friends in the United States. Others aboard were Dr. and Mrs. O. S. Lowrey, Dr. Lowrey is port surgeon of the United States Lines here; H. L. Dickerson, deputy comptroller of the lines, who sailed with Mrs. Dickerson for what he termed a "delayed honeymoon"; Mrs. A. E. Seel, mother of the American Consul at Southampton; Mrs. B. F. Schlessinger and Howard Schlessinger, William H. Walker, Major and Mrs. G. O. Trotter and Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Taylor.

actress, and with her returned to Philadelphia, where he was arrested several weeks ago by the Federal agents and detained at Gloucester for deportation.

The George Washington carried an unusually large passenger list, and among those sailing was the Baroness de Knagenhjelm of Denmark, who returns to her home after an extended visit to friends in the United States. Others aboard were Dr. and Mrs. O. S. Lowrey, Dr. Lowrey is port surgeon of the United States Lines here; H. L. Dickerson, deputy comptroller of the lines, who sailed with Mrs. Dickerson for what he termed a "delayed honeymoon"; Mrs. A. E. Seel, mother of the American Consul at Southampton; Mrs. B. F. Schlessinger and Howard Schlessinger, William H. Walker, Major and Mrs. G. O. Trotter and Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Taylor.

actress, and with her returned to Philadelphia, where he was arrested several weeks ago by the Federal agents and detained at Gloucester for deportation.

G. K. D. PEARSON TO WED MISS LOHMAN

Prospective Bridegroom Is Veteran of World War.

The engagement is announced of Miss Wilhelmine Lohman, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lohman of Hamilton, Ohio, to Mr. Gordon Kimball Dickinson Pearson, son of Mrs. Emily Dickinson Pearson, the late Walter A. Pearson, and nephew of Frederick J. Pearson, who perished in the Titanic disaster.

Miss Lohman is now a guest at the Pearson summer home in the Berkshires, Middlefield, Mass. She is a graduate of Miami University and also attended the School of Art and College of Music in Cincinnati.

Mr. Pearson, who is a graduate of Yale, spent nine years in Brazil with the Rio de Janeiro Light and Power Company. He returned in 1912 and served in the world war. He is now in business in Springfield, Mass.

The marriage will take place in the early autumn.

IN THE WHITE MOUNTAINS.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

Burrton Woods, N. H., Aug. 19.—Arriving at the Mount Pleasant House to-day was Mr. John Townsend of New York. Mr. and Mrs. Williams Burden and Mr. J. Gordon Douglas, Jr., of Newport, have decided to prolong their stay here another week.

Arriving at the Mount Washington were Mr. W. G. Wesson and party of Worcester, Mrs. Willard Curtis, Mrs. Harry Morse and Miss Morse of New York, who just arrived from Antwerp, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Tilden of New York, who arrived from Dixville Notch; Mr. Waldron P. Belknap, who joined Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Ashforth; Mr. William C. Armstrong, who joined Mr. and Mrs. J. Sinclair Armstrong; Mr. and Mrs. Franklin L. Gunther, Percy S. Vermilye, who joined Mrs. Vermilye, and Mr. Charles T. Howe, all of New York; Mr. George B. Boardman of the U. S. Railway Administration, Washington, and Mrs. Boardman, also arrived.

A large gallery gave up the afternoon to finals in the annual Bretton Woods golf tournament between John Hopkins, Jr., of Chicago, and Arthur R. Corwin of Boston, present White Mountain champions.

Clever

If "cleverness" as applied to footwear means originality, charm or superior beauty, then I. Miller Slippers are, as people often express it, decidedly clever.

New Styles
now showing

I. MILLER
Feminine Footwear

562 Fifth Avenue

at 45th Street

1554 Broadway

at 45th Street

Bidding

FIFTH AVENUE

56th Street ~ 57th Street

New York

Final Reduction on all Remaining Summer Things

It is essential that every bit of Summer apparel be disposed of within the next few days so that our Fall Collection may be displayed more advantageously.

Group of Dresses at $25—$45 Formerly to $145

Suitable for street, afternoon and evening wear

Odd Dresses at $65—$95 Formerly to $200

Many imported models among this variety

Evening Wraps at $50 to $125 Formerly to $275

Suitable for summer evenings in town or country

Remaining Daytime Apparel

Two and Three Piece Suits—$55
Formerly to $175

Separate Skirts at $15
Formerly to $45

Tailored Suits and Capes at $35
Formerly to $95

Sports Coats and Capes at $28
Formerly to $95

Silk Coats and Capes—$50
Formerly to $125

Sport Coatees at $18
Formerly to $45

Silk Coats and Capes—$65
Formerly to $165

Sports Blouses at $3—$5
Formerly to $15

Wool Sweaters at $5
Formerly to $12.50

Final Days of August Fur Sale

As the time for the close of our August Fur Sale draws near the most extraordinary values will be offered in Wraps—Capes—and Scarfs made from the choicest skins.

Choice Broadtail Coat $1975
(Large Chinchilla Collar)

Choice Mink Cape.....$995

Taupe Caracul Cape....$795
(London Smoke Fox Trimmed)

Handsome Ermine Cape...$975

Black Caracul Coat....$595
(Viatica dyed Squirrel Trimmed)

SCARFS

$250 Natural Fisher Scarfs.....$125

$95 Natural Hudson Bay Sable Scarfs.....$50